I have a problem with a red stain on the screen of my monitor (via TV) When my game is running on my monitor, there is no red stain on the screen and everything is ok, but when I am playing on my TV, there is a red stain in the middle of the screen (virtual screen). I have a VGA monitor and it is connected to my TV via HDMI. If you have any idea I will appreciate it. Thanks hello, I wanted to ask is it possible to have a viewscreen in on your desktop on your own computer while playing? I have a problem in an earlier version of 1404 that I do not want to use at the moment (in fact I did not try it out) and that is the viewscreen. I am using my computer as host while I am playing on my phone via WiFi. I was having problems with my Game on 1404. I'm pretty sure it was the Wi-Fi I was playing it on. I could play on Wi-Fi and not on my home network. I was going to wait until this weekend to try to play on my home network to see if it would work. I have a controller and a friend has my laptop that has a wireless controller. Is it possible that the controllers are sending different signals or am I going to have to use the controller I have? hi guys, I'm new here and i really need some help! I have an HDTV, a laptop and a ps3 and i would like to use the ps3 as my game console. I was thinking of using it for streaming my game through google play games and then on a tv as a home console for all my friends to play, but how does it work with my tv? can someone tell me please? I have two problems I'm facing with an HDTV that I have connected to my computer. First, I can't connect my Zippo to my TV. I bought the Zippo because I don't have a lighter in the house. My son is away at college, and I would like to have a lighter for my cigarette, to give to him in the car when he comes home. It's good to go, but it won't play because it says there is no Zippo lighter that matches the slot in the lighter. It's a Lenovo Ideapad T410. I have Windows 8. Second 82157476af
